

How Should Christians Expose the Works of Darkness?

Sixbert SANGWA • August 07, 2024

The Apostle Paul admonishes believers to “have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather expose them” (Ephesians 5:11). This directive invites Christians to a life of discernment and active opposition to sin. Understanding how to expose these works without falling into self-righteousness or judgmentalism requires careful biblical guidance and a humble spirit.

Understanding the Works of Darkness

The “works of darkness” encompass any actions, thoughts, or behaviors that are contrary to God’s will and righteousness. These include but are not limited to deceit, immorality, idolatry, and any form of evil. Paul lists some of these works in Galatians 5:19-21, describing them as “the acts of the flesh,” which include sexual immorality, impurity, debauchery, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions, envy, drunkenness, and orgies. Such behaviors not only separate individuals from God but also lead to spiritual and sometimes physical destruction.

The Call to Expose

To expose the works of darkness means to bring them to light, revealing their true nature and the consequences they bring. This involves more than just recognizing or avoiding sin; it requires actively confronting and denouncing it. However, it is essential to approach this task with humility and love, reflecting Christ’s example. In John 8:12, Jesus declares, “I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.” As followers of Christ, Christians are called to be bearers of this light, illuminating the truth and exposing darkness through their words and deeds. This exposure should lead to repentance and transformation, not condemnation.

Practical Steps to Expose Darkness

Living a holy life is a fundamental step in exposing the works of darkness. The most powerful testimony against these works is a life lived in the light. By embodying Christ’s teachings and demonstrating His love and righteousness, Christians can provide a stark contrast to the darkness around them. Matthew 5:16 encourages believers to “let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven.” Furthermore, exposing darkness involves speaking out against sin, but this must be done with compassion and love. Ephesians 4:15 instructs us to “speak the truth in love.” This balance prevents our actions from becoming judgmental or harsh, opening the way for healing and reconciliation.

God’s Word is a powerful tool in exposing and correcting the works of darkness. Hebrews 4:12 describes the Word of God as “living and active, sharper than any double-edged sword.” By using Scripture, Christians can provide a solid foundation for their stance against sin, offering guidance and truth. Prayer is also crucial in the battle against darkness. Christians are called to pray for wisdom, strength, and discernment to effectively expose and combat sin. Ephesians 6:18 emphasizes the importance of prayer, urging believers to “pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests.” Engaging in a community of believers provides support and accountability. James 5:16 encourages Christians to “confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed.” A supportive community can help individuals stay vigilant and strong in their stand against darkness.

Exposing the Current Wiles of the Devil

In today’s world, the enemy is tirelessly working to fulfill prophecy by ushering in the greatest apostasy and the Antichrist’s inauguration. Numerous sinister plans under various worldly agendas require Christian vigilance. These plans are often hidden within stigmatized knowledge, making them harder to identify and expose. Global initiatives like Agenda 2030 and Agenda 2050, while seemingly aimed at sustainable development, often mask efforts to undermine biblical principles and pave the way for a one-world government and the Antichrist’s reign. Similarly, hidden documents like the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion outline a blueprint for global domination that aligns with prophecies of a coming world leader who opposes God. The Ten-Point Charter of Alice Bailey introduces New Age philosophies and practices contrary to biblical teachings, subtly transforming society. Secret societies like the Illuminati also pursue hidden agendas aimed at subverting Christian values and establishing a new world order.

In addition to these global plans, Christians must expose New Age teachings and philosophies that have undermined our current society by promoting abominable actions and behaviors such as gender fluidity, abortion, divorce and remarriage, hedonism, and love of pleasure. These ideologies not only contradict biblical teachings but also lead individuals away from God’s truth. Gender fluidity challenges the biblical understanding of male and female as created by God (Genesis 1:27). Abortion is contrary to the sanctity of life as emphasized in Psalm 139:13-16. Divorce and remarriage, when not aligned with biblical grounds, undermine the sanctity of marriage (Matthew 19:3-9). Hedonism and the pursuit of pleasure over righteousness directly oppose the call to live a holy life (1 Peter 1:15-16).

Furthermore, there is a growing trend of misinterpreting Scriptures to justify these behaviors. For instance, some argue that “God is love” (1 John 4:8) supports unconditional acceptance of all lifestyles, neglecting the call to holiness and repentance. Others misuse “Judge not, that you be not judged” (Matthew 7:1) to silence any correction or call to righteousness, ignoring the full counsel of Scripture that calls for discernment and righteous judgment.

These plans are often silenced by promoting empiricism, which renders them conspiratorial. However, Christians should seek God’s wisdom and evidence from the Holy Spirit over empirical evidence, demonstrating their faith through spiritual discernment and reliance on divine guidance. Ephesians 6:12 reminds us, “For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.”

Addressing Modern Pluralism

Another significant challenge in exposing the works of darkness is the modern trend toward pluralism, which often forbids people from saying anything against others’ beliefs, even if those beliefs are contrary to the Bible. This cultural pressure to accept all viewpoints as equally valid can lead to the suppression of biblical truth and the promotion of relativism. Christians must navigate this environment with wisdom and courage, standing firm in their faith while showing respect and love to others. However, it is crucial to remember that being tolerant does not mean compromising on the truth.

The Bible warns that this trend towards pluralism and the unification of different beliefs under the guise of unity is a precursor to the Antichrist’s one world religion. In Revelation 17:1-6, the apostle John describes “the great prostitute” who sits on many waters, symbolizing false religion and idolatry that will deceive the nations (Revelation 17:1-6). This passage depicts a false religious system that will seduce the world, leading them away from the truth of Christ. The pursuit of unity at the expense of biblical truth paves the way for this deception.

Biblical unity is not about unifying religions or institutions but about unity in Christ. Jesus prayed for this unity in John 17:21: “That all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me.” This unity is based on shared faith in Jesus Christ and adherence to His teachings, not on compromising truth to accommodate all beliefs. Paul emphasizes this in Ephesians 4:3-5: “Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to one hope when you were called; one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.”

Christians should boldly expose the false unity that seeks to unite all religions under the Antichrist’s rule, as it ultimately leads people away from the true gospel. Paul advises in 2 Timothy 4:2: “Preach the word; be prepared in season and out of season; correct, rebuke and encourage—with great patience and careful instruction.” This instruction emphasizes the need to uphold biblical truth while engaging with the world around us. By standing firm in the truth of Christ and rejecting the false unity promoted by pluralism, Christians can protect themselves and others from being deceived by the works of darkness.

The Ultimate Goal: Redemption and Restoration

Exposing the works of darkness is not about shaming or condemning others but about leading them to the light of Christ. The ultimate goal is redemption and restoration, bringing people into a right relationship with God. 2 Corinthians 5:18-19 highlights this mission, stating, “All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting people’s sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation.”

In conclusion, exposing the works of darkness is a profound responsibility for Christians, requiring a balance of truth, love, and humility. By living in the light, speaking the truth in love, using scripture, engaging in prayer, and fostering community accountability, believers can effectively shine the light of Christ in a dark world. The ultimate aim is to draw others out of darkness and into the redemptive light of Jesus Christ, fulfilling His call to be the light of the world. Christians must remain vigilant, discerning the signs of the times and the subtle ways in which the enemy operates, to protect themselves and guide others towards the truth.
